Comment.

25X1

report shows that supply traffic in this area lightly decreased.

The unusually small supply traffic of the large ammunition depot at Pfaffendorf is of interest. Similar observations were made at other large ammunition depots in East Germany. The filling of the large ammunition depots was completed in the fall of 1952, as had repeatedly been reported. The present need of ammunition is covered by the USSR which ships the ammunition directly to the ammunition depots at the firing ranges. The high percentage of supply goods delivered from the East zone production is also worth mentioning. The East zone part included motor vehicle spare parts engineer equipment pharmaceutical articles and medical equipment and signal equipment.
